

An area of the home that should receive more attention is.....the finished basement!

Let's create a thrilling living space with building a desired activity zone in your home's lower level or the "basement" for exciting entertainment events and home based hobbies.

Kitchen and bathes enjoy being the most important component in home living attributes but finished spaces below grade the "basement" are gaining in popularity...but never will or should beat kitchen and bath supremacy.

In completing your lower level the "basement" you now look forward to happy times in enjoying this extra living space. A home's basement area can offer a new frontier in comfort, fun, hobbies, entertaining, parties, watching movies and gaming. There is unlimited imagination or endless possibilities in all the many designs and ideas to completing this already available space!!

This available space becomes a new territory when finished creating a hang-out for conversation, playing billiards, table tennis, throwing rubber darts, shuffle board, cooking, foosball, air hockey, putt putt golf, or just listening to music. And all this area of fun living is situated right under your home.

Please inspect our finished basement design and be amazed at all the potential family fun that can be easily assembled, especially during winter months.

A basement is built with concrete which includes cement
It is MC Building, Inc.'s trendy intent
